

THE PRESIDENTS' MEN

BLACK UNITED STATES MARSHALS IN AMERICA

The author brings more than 40 years of practical, administrative, managerial, supervisory and academic experience to this work of art. "A unique and comprehensive view of the United States Marshals Service as seen through the eyes of this law enforcement professional."

As a career professional, retired police chief, college professor and current national president of a major proactive thinking, professional and progressive executive police organization, this is a "must read" and I personally recommend this publication to my professional colleagues.

Chief Patrick R. Melvin, M.Ed.
National President, NOBLE
National Organization of Black Law Enforcement Executives

In 1994 United States Marshal Robert Moore, Central District of Illinois discovered that the 132 year history of Black U.S. Marshals and Deputy U.S. Marshals was omitted from the Marshals Service official History Book: "The U.S. Marshals and their Deputies (1789 to 1989)". Instead of getting angry about this grievous omission, Marshal Moore decided to write the history of Black Presidential appointed Marshals beginning with Marshal Frederick Douglass. In 1999 he created a traveling exhibit to honor his counterparts in the service and to educate the nation about their contributions to this nation.

ROBERT MOORE & ASSOCIATES BOOK PUBLISHING
Springfield, Illinois
www.blackpoliceresource.com

THE PRESIDENTS' MEN

BLACK UNITED STATES MARSHALS IN AMERICA

ROBERT MOORE

THE PRESIDENTS' MEN

BLACK UNITED STATES MARSHALS IN AMERICA

BY ROBERT MOORE
U.S. MARSHAL

Black Leadership in the United States Marshal Service and America Since 1875

A Great Book About African American History.
—Tony Rose, Publisher/CEO, Amber Books

